Roberta Sonenfeld, a village resident for 16 years, adjusts the vintage wedding dress on exhibit at the Schoolhouse Museum.

Age: 58.

How long I have lived in Ridgewood: 16 years.

Interests and hobbies: Broadway theater, traveling, cooking.

My favorite place to relax in Ridgewood: During spring, summer and fall, hanging in our backyard with friends.

A "perfect day" in Ridgewood would include: Starbucks in the morning followed by a library visit or shopping and topped off by dinner at either Mediterraneo,

La Lanterna or Café 37.

The best-kept secret in the village: The Schoolhouse Museum – come visit and see our current exhibit – "The Collection."

The best thing about Ridgewood: The educational system and the support it has in the community, including the significant contributions that the trustees at the Ridgewood Education Foundation make.

One thing I would like to change in the village: The level of discourse on seemingly divisive issues, e.g. Valley Hospital and Central Business District development.

The best part of my job: Meeting new clients and learning about their businesses.
